DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The three story, cream-colored brick building has five bays, with the two end bays forming an H plan. A crenelated parapet surrounds the roof, with two Flemish gables at the end.

A double, curved, sweeping staircase leads to the enclosed first story arcaded porch. Supporting the arches are piers with decorated capitals. Two entrances lead to the balcony over the porch.

The first and second story windows, outlined by a stylized Gibbs surround design, are 4/4, five sash with mullion and lugsill. The third story windows differ in the inclusion of a diagonally divided transom for each individual window. Below the first story is a belt course and, above the second story, a string course, which follows the entire structure. The windows in each end bay differ from the others by being smaller in height and three sash with mullion.

Above the balcony entrance is a double hung, 9/9 window with sidelights and, separated by the string course, is a smaller window of the same design.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The original School #51 was located on Greenmount Avenue and 33rd Streets where Adler's is today. Waverly School #51 was constructed in 1910 and, for the time, was considered to excell in modern elementary school design. It is the first school to have well equipped cooking and manual training departments.

The building blends well with other examples of Waverly architecture. Its basic plan has enough added elements such as the parapet, arcaded porch and balcony, sweeping double staircase and surface design to lend interest to the building.

Waverly School Number 51 is to be replaced by another building because the facility has been shown to be out of date. The structure is to be razed some time after the new school, which will face Gorsuch Avenue, is finished. Plans are being made for the design of the new school at the present.
